Best Practice-1

1. Title of the Practice:

2. Objectives of the Practice:

1. To find out the socio-economic condition of the people of Saktiashram area.
2. To find out the problems behind the weak socio-economic condition of the area.
3. To find out the solution of the problems of the weak socio-economic condition of the area.

3. The Context:

The people are engaged in traditional way of living and beliefs. The ray of education is till date not up to the mark. The local higher educational institutions have to work for better upliftment of socio-economic condition by guiding and providing advance information. The people of the area are grappled with many problems that are acting as barriers to the development. The need of the time is to study and understand the problems and challenges that are causing barrier to growth and development of the area.

4. The Practice:

The Socio-economic condition of Saktiashram area has been taken as the subject of practice. There are 12 villages in the area. Out of 12 villages 4 villages namely Baldiabathan, Maynaguri, Mukhigoan and Tafapara were selected randomly for survey. 10% of the total households in the above four villages have been selected for data collection.

The study is mainly research based. The subject is selected to know the socio-economic problems of the people of the area. The subject selected is important because it will help to identify the main causes of weak economic condition of the people and the causes of lacking in terms of development. Socio-economic status has long been related to health, education and income.

5. Evidence of Success:

By the practice it is seen that in the Saktiashram area the literacy rate is found good as the area is not densely populated. Regarding government benefits the people of the area were not mostly benefitted due to information gap.

The college has taken the initiative by providing guidance, arranging awareness programmes, motivating their strength and taking leadership to improve the socio-economic condition of the area. By these programmes the people of the area get different information of government schemes for their development.

The major problems are basically poverty, illiteracy, unemployment, lack of motivation, crime, domestic violence, social evils, lower living standards, lack of basic amenities, services and communication. The people are plagued with numerous problems like lack of basic infrastructure, such as educational institutions, hospitals, sanitation etc. The policies implemented by the government do not touch the majority of the people due to information gap and mismanagement.

Resource Encountered:

1. Financial resources to increase purchasing power of the weak socio-economic group.
2. Infrastructure resources have to enhance.
3. Increase agricultural productivity by providing land to landless people and supporting cultivators by subsidizing inputs.
4. Increase of government schemes

While digital literacy initially focused only on computer knowledge the advent of the internet and use of social media has resulted shift its focus to mobile devices. Digital literacy does not replace traditional forms of education but instead builds upon and expands the skills that form the foundation of traditional forms of education. Digital literacy should be considered to be a part of the vast expanding knowledge. Therefore, the college took this as part of best practice.
